HALO MILITARY LEAD CAR FLAGS SHOW PROPER RESPECT FOR FALLEN VETERANS

Halo International offers a full line of special "lead car" flags to both honor veterans and police and firefighters. "By using a military flag on one side and the American flag on the other, you add reverence and distinction to the funeral procession," says Mark Pennington, founder and CEO of Halo International Corp. "It's been important to me to develop specialty products and to contribute to customizing funerals in every way possible", he continued.

Halo International will publish it's new, enlarged Unique Supplies catalog in the next few months. The book will contain many never-before seen products that he has developed to help funeral directors customize and service every funeral, including his full line of lead car flags.

For additional products enhancing specialty services, including military, civic and ethnic, request a printed brochure from your Halo International Corp. representative, or go online to www.halointlcorp.com to request any of our eight industry catalogs.
